

The Coca-Cola Company has commissioned artist Romero Britto to create an original work for its 2011 holiday card. The original painting, titled "Happy Holidays" will be permanently displayed at the company's Atlanta Headquarters. Romero Britto is the first artist the Coca-Cola Company has commissioned specifically to create art for their annual holiday card.